

HELLO PARENTS!

My name is Ellie the Elephant and your child was introduced to my book “Ellie with the Belly” in class today. It is a story about bullying, courage and kindness. My hopes are that the book is a beacon of light to those children who have been bullied, witnessed bullying or have been the bully. Courage, empathy, kindness, and forgiveness are all examples highlighted in my story. Please visit our website at booksbylisav.org to access all the fun FREE activities for your child, which include, coloring pages, puzzles, a maze, a word search, dot to dot, popsicle puppets, and the coolest video from my illustrator, Mark Sean Wilson on “How to draw an Elephant.” There is also a link to Amazon if you care to purchase a book for your child to have at home. We hope you enjoy what we have created for your little ones and help us “Stop the bullying...One book at a time!”
